LONDON’S GLOBAL UNIVERSITY

www.ucl.ac.uk/graduate/highpro

HIGHER AND PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION MA /
2018/19 ENTRY

www.ucl.ac.uk/graduate/highpro
The MA Higher and Professional Education will give students critical insights into the changing field of higher education; reflecting on contemporary developments and debates. It will introduce conceptual and analytical frameworks for understanding the role of higher education in society. It will develop student’s knowledge, skills and confidence to operate effectively and creatively in a diverse higher education sector.

Degree summary

This programme provides students with the opportunity to study for an interdisciplinary, interprofessional qualification, examining higher and professional education policies and practices in relation to their own personal and professional experience.

- The Department of Education, Practice and Society is a multidisciplinary department at UCL Institute of Education. The department has extensive expertise and experience in research, knowledge transfer and consultancy in the UK, Europe and Asia, working closely with transnational bodies, government departments, regional organisations, national institutes, and international organisations.
- The Centre for Higher Education Studies brings together students, researchers, consultants and practitioners from around the world focusing on higher education with a distinctive programme of seminars and events.
- Programmes offered by the Centre for Higher Education Studies provide high level academic and professional education for those working in higher education.

Teaching is delivered through interactive lectures, seminars, group discussions, case study analysis and online learning. In many modules there are opportunities for all students to participate on a variety of ways, including giving short presentations or seminar papers or leading group discussions.

Assessment is through coursework assignments of up to 5,000 words and a 20,000-word dissertation or 10,000-word report.

Degree structure

Mode: Full-time: 1 year; Part-time: 2 years; Flexible: up to 5 years

Location: London, Bloomsbury

The programme is available part-time or flexible/modular to enable those working in higher education in London to maintain their professional role while completing their studies in evening classes.

Students undertake modules to the value of 180 credits. The programme consists of two core modules (60 credits), two optional modules (60 credits), and either a) a dissertation (60 credits), or b) a report (30 credits) plus a further optional module (30 credits).

CORE MODULES
- The two core modules must both be completed in order to gain the named award.
- Innovation and Change in Higher and Professional Education
- Higher Education: Comparative and International Perspectives
- In 2017/18 both core modules were timetabled 5-8pm to enable students working in higher education to attend with ICHE running in the Autumn Term and HE: CiP running in the Spring Term.

OPTIONAL MODULES
- Recommended optional modules appear below, but optional modules can be selected from the wide range offered by various taught Masters programmes at the Institute of Education.
- Comparative Education: Theories and Methods
- Understanding Education Policy
- Debates in the History of Education
- Education and Technology: Key Issues and Debates
- Learning and Teaching for Adults
- Philosophy of Education: Values, Aims and Society
- Sociology of Education
- Understanding Education Research
- Understanding Research
- The module Learning and Teaching for Adults has the additional requirement of experience of teaching.

DISSERTATION/REPORT
- All students undertake an independent research project which culminates in a 20,000-word dissertation or 10,000-word report.
Your career

Graduates of this programme are currently working across a broad range of areas, for example one is a university governance and quality assurance manager, while another is a government policy adviser for education. Others have jobs as academic standards and quality officer, careers and professional development consultant, learning, teaching and quality manager, and qualifications manager and students’ union officer. Some go on to doctoral studies in the field of higher education.

Recent career destinations* include:

- Administrative Assistant, Vienna University for Economics and Business
- Medical Consultant, St George’s Hospital (NHS)
- Programme Administrator, Institute of Education
- International Partnerships Manager, City University London
- PHD Education, Institute of Education, University of London (IOE)

Employability

The employability of students will be significantly enhanced by the development of complementary skills which will help them to efficiently connect theory, policy and practice in their day to day to jobs.

- to enable participants to understand and analyse policies and practices in higher and professional education
- to develop critical awareness of concepts, debates and issues in higher and professional education
- to be able to conduct a small-scale inquiry, and include this in a sustained exposition (dissertation or report)
- to develop frameworks and principles for action in professional settings

* Careers data is taken from the ‘Destinations of Leavers from Higher Education’ survey undertaken by HESA looking at the destinations of UK and EU students in the 2013-2015 graduating cohorts six months after graduation.
Entry requirements

A minimum of a relevant second-class Bachelor’s degree from a UK university or an overseas qualification of an equivalent standard and relevant professional experience of higher and professional education.

English language proficiency level

If your education has not been conducted in the English language, you will be expected to demonstrate evidence of an adequate level of English proficiency.

The level of English language proficiency for this programme is: Good.

Information about the evidence required, acceptable qualifications and test providers is provided at:

www.ucl.ac.uk/graduate/english-requirements

Your application

Students are advised to apply as early as possible due to competition for places. Those applying for scholarship funding (particularly overseas applicants) should take note of application deadlines.

When we assess your application we would like to learn:

// why you want to study Higher and Professional Education at graduate level
// why you want to study Higher and Professional Education at UCL
// what particularly attracts you to the chosen programme
// how your academic and professional background meets the demands of this challenging programme
// where you would like to go professionally with your degree

Together with essential academic requirements, the personal statement is your opportunity to illustrate whether your reasons for applying to this programme match what the programme will deliver.

Application fee: There is an application processing fee for this programme of £75 for online applications and £100 for paper applications. More details about the application fee can be found at www.ucl.ac.uk/prospective-students/graduate/taught/application.

FEES AND FUNDING 2018/19 ENTRY

// UK: £8,430 (FT), £4,340 (PT)
// EU: £8,430 (FT), £4,340 (PT)
// Overseas: £18,240 (FT), £9,290 (PT)

The tuition fees shown are for the year indicated above. Fees for subsequent years may increase or otherwise vary. Further information on fee status, fee increases and the fee schedule can be viewed on the UCL Current Students website.

Fees for flexible, modular study are charged pro-rata to the appropriate full-time Master’s fee taken in an academic session.

Full details of funding opportunities can be found on the UCL Scholarships website: www.ucl.ac.uk/scholarships

APPLICATION DEADLINE

All applicants: 4 September 2018

Details on how to apply are available on the website at:

www.ucl.ac.uk/graduate/apply

CONTACT

Dr Holly Smith, Programme Leader

Email: holly.smith@ucl.ac.uk

Telephone: 02076126525

EU referendum

For up-to-date information relating to specific key questions following the UK’s decision to leave the EU, please refer to www.ucl.ac.uk/eu-referendum