ANCIENT WORLD BA / UCAS CODE: Q805
2018 ENTRY

www.ucl.ac.uk/prospectus/classics
Students on this flexible three-year programme may choose from a vast range of modules covering ancient history, literature, languages and archaeology. It offers great flexibility in the possible combination of modules and provides an entry to the classics for those who have not studied Greek or Latin at school.

Key information

Programme starts
September 2018

Location
London, Bloomsbury

Degree benefits

// UCL Greek & Latin is ranked in the top five universities in the UK for classics by the Guardian University Guide 2017.

// You will have access to an unparalleled range of course options, from Roman Love Poetry to Greek Palaeography, from Ancient Greek Religion to Roman Epic.

// UCL has excellent library facilities, and is ideally situated close to world-renowned resources such as the British Museum, the British Library, and the Institute of Classical Studies.

// The lively student-run Classical Society organises an annual Classics play (a Greek or Latin drama in translation) shown at the nearby Bloomsbury Theatre, as well as other events.

Research Excellence Framework (REF) 2014
The Research Excellence Framework, or REF, is the system for assessing the quality of research in UK higher education institutions. The 2014 REF was carried out by the UK’s higher education funding bodies, and the results used to allocate research funding from 2015/16.

// 76% rated 4* ("world-leading") or 3* ("internationally excellent")

Degree structure

In each year of your degree you will take a number of individual modules, normally valued at 0.5 or 1.0 credits, adding up to a total of 4.0 credits for the year. Modules are assessed in the academic year in which they are taken. The balance of compulsory and optional modules varies from programme to programme and year to year. A 1.0 credit is considered equivalent to 15 credits in the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS).

This flexible programme offers an almost entirely free choice of modules covering classical literature, history and archaeology, and does not require prior knowledge of Greek or Latin. In the first year, all students must take at least 1.0 credit of either Latin or Greek – they continue with this same language in the next year to complete the 1.5 credit requirement. All students must take one history module and one archaeology module in their first year and there is also a compulsory module on the ancient world. In the third year, students must take an Extended Essay module.

YEAR ONE
Core or compulsory module(s)

// Approaches to the Ancient World
1.0 credit of Latin or Greek

Optional modules
// You will select 2.5 credits from a wide range of optional modules, to include:
at least one archaeology module
at least one history module.

YEAR TWO
Core or compulsory module(s)

// 0.5 credits of the Ancient Language chosen in the first year

Optional modules
// You will select 3.5 credits from a wide range of optional modules.

FINAL YEAR
Core or compulsory module(s)

// Essay on an approved subject

Optional modules
// You will select 3.5 credits from a wide range of optional modules.
Your learning
You will be taught through lectures, seminars and small-group work. Some sessions involve direct study of artefacts, including access to the collections of the British Museum.

Assessment
Most modules combine both continuous assessment and end-of-year written examinations, although a few modules are assessed solely by one or other of these methods.

Your career
Knowledge of languages such as Latin and Greek will allow you to develop mental agility and versatility, equipping you with the ability (amongst other things) to learn modern languages with comparative ease, opening up a wider range of possibilities in the future.

The Ancient World BA is a rigorous and broad-ranging degree which qualifies you for a remarkably wide variety of jobs. The Classical Society hosts regular talks from former students, which may help guide you in your future career choices.

First career destinations of recent graduates (2013-2015) from this programme at UCL include:
  // Administration Officer, National Maritime Museum
  // Client Services Executive, MEDIA iQ
  // Paralegal, Corker Binning
  // Visitor Services and Library Assistant, Wiener Library
  // MA in Ancient History, UCL

Your application
Application for admission should be made through UCAS (the Universities and Colleges Admissions Service). Applicants currently at school or college will be provided with advice on the process; however, applicants who have left school or who are based outside the United Kingdom may obtain information directly from UCAS.

Entry to the degree is competitive so it is important you highlight your interest in and passion for the subject in your application. In addition to meeting the academic standards stated, we look for dedication and self-motivation, good communication skills and a real enthusiasm for your chosen area of study.

Each application is carefully assessed. Those candidates being considered for an offer will be invited to an applicant open day, which will include a lunch with staff and current students where you can discuss the degree programme, living in London and studying at UCL, and take a tour of the campus.
