Location
London, Bloomsbury

Degree benefits

- UCL Greek & Latin is ranked in the top five universities in the UK for classics by the Guardian University Guide 2017.
- You will have access to an unparalleled range of options, from Roman Love Poetry to Greek Palaeography, from Ancient Greek Religion to Roman Epic.
- UCL has excellent library facilities, and is ideally situated, close to world-renowned resources such as the British Museum, the British Library and the Institute of Classical Studies.
- The lively student-run Classical Society organises an annual Classics play (a Greek or Latin drama in translation), which is shown at the nearby Bloomsbury Theatre, as well as other events.

Research Excellence Framework (REF) 2014

The Research Excellence Framework, or REF, is the system for assessing the quality of research in UK higher education institutions. The 2014 REF was carried out by the UK’s higher education funding bodies, and the results used to allocate research funding from 2015/16.

- 76% rated 4* ("world-leading") or 3* ("internationally excellent")

Degree structure

In each year of your degree you will take a number of individual modules, normally valued at 0.5 or 1.0 credits, adding up to a total of 4.0 credits for the year. Modules are assessed in the academic year in which they are taken. The balance of compulsory and optional modules varies from programme to programme and year to year. A 1.0 credit is considered equivalent to 15 credits in the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS).

The main emphasis of the programme is on the study of Latin and Greek texts in the original language. The choice of options is very wide, but the language element follows a set pattern. Students must take at least 1.0 credit of Latin-based modules, and at least 1.0 credit of Greek-based modules per year. In addition, there are some compulsory courses in the first and second years involving texts in translation. The wide range of optional modules includes philosophy and science, ancient history and the various branches of archaeology.

The programme also allows you to take modules from outside the Classical World area, for example in a modern language, medieval or modern history, history of science or computing (a maximum of 1.0 credit in the first year, and 1.5 and 2.0 credits in the second and third years respectively).

In the second and third years, in certain circumstances, you may drop either Latin or Greek to concentrate on one or the other, leading to a qualification title of Greek with Latin BA or Latin with Greek BA.

YEAR ONE

Core or compulsory module(s)
- 1.0 credit of Greek-based modules
- 1.0 credit of Latin-based modules
- Interpreting Greek Literature
- Interpreting Latin Literature

Optional modules
- You will select 1.0 credit from a wide range of optional modules.

YEAR TWO

Core or compulsory module(s)
- 1.0 credit of Greek-based modules
- 1.0 credit of Latin-based modules
- Classics and Literary Theory

Optional modules
- You will select 1.5 credits from a wide range of optional modules.

FINAL YEAR

Core or compulsory module(s)
- 1.0 credits of Greek-based modules
- 1.0 credits of Latin-based modules

Optional modules
- You will select 2.0 credits from a wide range of optional modules.
Your learning

You will be taught through lectures, seminars and small-group work. Some sessions involve direct study of artefacts, including access to the collections of the British Museum.

Assessment

Most modules combine both continuous assessment and end-of-year written examinations, although a few modules are assessed solely by one or other of these methods.

Your career

Knowledge of languages such as Latin and Greek will allow you to develop mental agility and versatility, equipping you with the ability (amongst other things) to learn modern languages with comparative ease, opening up a wider range of possibilities in the future.

The Classics BA is a rigorous and broad-ranging degree which qualifies you for a remarkably wide variety of jobs. The Classical Society hosts regular talks from former students which may help guide you in your future career choices.

First career destinations of recent graduates (2013-2015) of this programme at UCL include:

// Publicity and Marketing Assistant, Granta Publications
// Financial Consultant, Finalta
// Researcher, Turnberry Consulting
// Trainee Account Manager, J. Walter Thompson
// GDL (Graduate Diploma in Law), City University London

Your application

Application for admission should be made through UCAS (the Universities and Colleges Admissions Service). Applicants currently at school or college will be provided with advice on the process; however, applicants who have left school or who are based outside the United Kingdom may obtain information directly from UCAS.

Entry to the degree is competitive so it is important you highlight your interest in and passion for the subject in your application. In addition to meeting the academic standards stated, we look for dedication and self-motivation, good communication skills and a real enthusiasm for your chosen area of study.

Each application is carefully assessed. Those candidates being considered for an offer will be invited to an applicant open day, which will include a lunch with staff and current students where you can discuss the degree programme, living in London and studying at UCL, and take a tour of the campus.
