Criminal Intelligence and Investigation (SECU0051)

Description
This module provides students with an understanding of the nature and role of intelligence and evidence for crime prevention and detection. We will examine the intelligence life cycle, different intelligence products and techniques used by analysts. The lectures will also cover the processes and actors operating throughout the course of a criminal investigation from the crime scene itself, to the collection and analysis of evidence, its interpretation and eventual presentation in court.

The module will be delivered over 10 weeks with 3 hour contact time (lectures/tutorials) per week.
